The energy complex was once again higher today as the market is riding positivity around an agreement for a $2 trillion federal stimulus package. RBOB was leading the push higher today with the front month up $.1031 on the day closing at $.5468. Diesel was clinging to gains for most of the day before closing up $.0175 at $1.0978. Crude oil futures surrendered earlier highs but still finished the day with gains, marking a third day in a row of increases for oil prices in a month that has seen them battered. Crude finished the day positive $.48 at $24.29.
